The South West's leading plumbing and heating contractors

About us

A family owned and run business that has been serving Bristol and the South West since 2007. Our business has expanded by word of mouth due to the great reputation Gas Safe have for their quality of work, reliability, honesty and value for money. With over 2000 gas boilers installed, choosing Gas Safe to install your new gas boiler is the safe option.

We operate throughout the South West of England including Bristol, South Gloucestershire, Bath, Chippenham, Weston-Super-Mare and Bridgewater. With engineers based throughout the South West, there is always a Gas Safe engineer within reach to attend to your requirements.

The services we provide include:

- Gas boiler replacements
- Boiler finance
- Gas boiler repairs and servicing
- Bathroom design and installations
- Landlord safety inspections
- Full chemical power flushing
- PAT testing
- Legionella risk assessments
- Electrical repair
- Electrical installation condition reports (EICR)
- Electrical heating
- Air source heat pumps

Our promise

We strive to deliver the best service in the South West at a cost that works for everyone, regardless of your budget. Whether you're in need of a new boiler, or need a trusted tradesman to carry out inspections on your buy to let property.

Our team are dynamic, qualified, industry professionals, who leave nothing to chance. We work for private homeowners, landlords, developers, property management organisations, social housing and local authorities, so you can rest assured you are in safe hands.

"From start to finish our experience with Gas Safe was second to none. We had an engineer out within 24 hours who provided us with a competitive quote and a new efficient boiler installed within two days. Our engineer was respectful, professional and left our property clean and tidy."

Our philosophy

At Gas Safe, our business is guided by a clear set of values. These values, which we think of as our DNA, are the foundation of our business and reflect the unique range of qualities that we pride ourselves on.

Supporting our staff

Unlike many in the industry, all of our staff are fully employed, not subcontracted. This gives our staff full employment rights and job security. We ensure all of our staff have access to the best equipment, the latest training and have the tools, kit and knowledge to carry out work confidently on behalf of the company. We also strongly believe in training up the next generation of gas engineers, which is why we've trained a total of nine apprentices since 2015.

Giving back

Over the years, we have raised £1,000s through charitable activities such as team days and sporting challenges. One of our most recent charitable events was a 400km bike ride from Bristol to Paris – with our team raising over £2,000 towards a total pot of £34,000.

Air conditioning specialists in Bristol

About us

We specialise in the installation, ongoing servicing and repairs of domestic and small commercial air conditioning units and home ventilation systems in Bristol and the South West.

- The units and brands we supply not only keep you cool in the summer but provide warmth in the winter, ensuring comfort all year round.
- Our specialist fitting team have 10 years of experience and provide a broad range of skills beyond air conditioning installation and servicing.
- We carefully hand pick the units and brands that we work with as they are renowned for reliability, innovation and quality technology.
- In line with the values of our customers, we invest in renewable solutions and ensure our clientele understand the benefits of air conditioning.

Why should you invest in air conditioning?

Air conditioning removes excess heat and moisture from your property, making your home or workplace a more pleasant area to relax, work or sleep. By efficiently heating and cooling your property, air conditioning systems maintain optimum temperatures throughout your space, keeping you comfortable all year round.

Beyond regulating room temperature, one of the biggest benefits of investing in an energy efficient air conditioning unit is to save money on energy bills. With an A+++ rating in efficiency, installing an air conditioning system can lower your energy consumption and reduce your carbon footprint, all whilst saving you or your business money.

Modern air con units also feature air-purifying filtration systems which cleanse the air of dust particles and allergens, benefiting those who suffer from allergies or respiratory issues.

"Thank you for installing my new air conditioning unit, I will be highly recommending you! From responding very quickly to my enquiry and providing me with a prompt quote, to installing my unit within a week, what more can you ask for! Excellent and friendly customer service, all at a reasonable price. Superb!"

Bristol Air Conditioning

Benefits of air conditioning

Maintains optimum temperature – Enjoy a cooler, more comfortable home or office all year round with a unit that supplies both hot and cold air.

Improved air quality – A regularly maintained air conditioning unit works to filter dust and pollen from the air.

Reduce energy usage – Climate control settings can help reduce energy usage and ultimately save you money on your energy bill.

Increase the value of your home – Air conditioning systems are attractive to potential buyers and can increase your home's value.

Reduce noise pollution – No need to keep windows open to cool your property. An air conditioning unit will cool your home without the noise.

Increased productivity – A comfortable temperature in the workplace can improve productivity levels in employees.
